----> Some of the ports you installed have notes:
    aspell has the following notes:
        You must install (at least) one of the language dictionaries after installing this port in order for it to work.
    dbus has the following notes:
```

```

    # Startup items have been generated that will aid in # starting dbus with launchd. They are disabled
    # by default. Execute the following commands to start them,
    # and to cause them to launch at startup:
    #
    # sudo launchctl load -w
    # /Library/LaunchDaemons/org.freedesktop.dbus-system.plist
    # launchctl load -w /Library/LaunchAgents/org.freedesktop.dbus-

    p5.24-libwww-perl has the following notes:
    As of version 6.00, libwww-perl has been broken up into multiple packages.
    If you were using p5.24-libwww-perl for just one or two of its modules
    before, you may be able to pare down your installation to just those modules

now. Other important changes have been made that may affect your code; for details, please see: /opt/local/share/doc/p5.24-libwww-perl/Changes py27-cython has the following notes:

To make the Python 2.7 version of Cython the one that is run when you execute the commands without a version suffix, e.g. 'cython', run:

port select --set cython cython27

python27 has the following notes:

To make this the default Python or Python 2 (i.e., the version run by the 'python' or 'python2' commands), run one or both of:

sudo port select --set python python27
```

```
sudo port select --set python2 python27
```

```

```
CC-MacBook-Pro:~ cc.macbookpro$ inkscape

Nothing to do!
```

```
CC-MacBook-Pro:~ cc.macbookpro$ sudo launchctl load -w
```

```
Password:
```

```
Usage: launchctl load <service-path, service-path2, ...>
```

    -w      If the service is disabled, it will be enabled. In previous
```

versions of launchd, being disabled meant that a service was

```
not loaded. Now, services are always loaded. If a service is

```
disabled, launchd does not advertise its service endpoints
```

```
(sockets, Mach ports, etc.).
```

    -F      Forcibly load the service. This flag will ignore the service's
```

disabled state. In previous versions of launchd, this flag
```

would also ignore the ownership and permissions of the specified launchd.plist. This is no longer the case.

```
Note that,
```

```
unlike the -w flag, this flag will not modify the service's
```

disabled state; it will instead only ignore it for the load

```
operation.

`-S <session>`
This flag takes a single argument which is the name of a session and may only be used when loading agents. All daemons exist within the same session, which is the system session. Agents may designate which sessions they can be loaded in with the `LimitLoadToSessionType` key.

`-D <domain>`
Loads `launchd.plist(5)` files from the specified domain. Depending on the current execution context, `launchctl` will look in a `LaunchDaemons` or `LaunchAgents` directory for `launchd.plist`s. When running in the system's execution context (i.e. when run as root via a root shell or with `sudo`), the `LaunchDaemons` directory is searched. When running in a user's context (i.e. run normally from a shell), the `LaunchAgents` directory is searched. Valid domains are:

`system`
Searches `/System/Library` for either daemons or agents.

`local`
Searches `/Library` for either daemons or agents.

`network`
Searches `/Network`. This session type is no longer valid.

`user`
Searches the home directory of the calling user for agents only. Daemons may not be loaded from this domain.
